Craylands Community Action Plan

Update Spring 2010

The physical re-development of Craylands is only part of the overall regeneration programme. If the scheme is to be successful, the social issues that exist on the Craylands estate must be addressed through an effective relationship between residents and agencies.

The Action Plan was developed in 2008, and set out how agencies and residents would work together to tackle these issues.

The Plan aims to improve communication and encourage coordination to ensure the ambitious scheme to transform Craylands will be an all-round success.

It will also support and enable residents to become more confident and increasingly involved in the local decision making processes for the future management of their own neighbourhood.

A Delivery Group has been formed and continues to meet on a quarterly basis. The group is made up of agencies and resident representatives and will lead the implementation and delivery of the plan, report back progress to the monthly Craylands Steering Group.

Resident's views do count and after extensive consultation, six priorities were identified that residents said would need to be tackled to make Craylands a better place to live and prosper.

The Six Priorities are:

1. A safer Craylands
2. Opportunities for children and young people
3. An economically active Craylands
4. An ambitious and well educated Craylands
5. An active, influential and cohesive Craylands
6. A healthier Craylands

Way forward

This review reports the progress made in community development over the last year to residents of Craylands. It also informs residents about how to get more involved in existing and future priorities for the estate which will improve the quality of life for residents on Craylands, now and in the future.

We need Craylands Residents to become more involved in decision making processes and projects.

The role of the Craylands Community Action Plan Delivery Group is to influence the strategic direction of the re-development, with particular emphasis on the six priorities identified by local residents in the Quality of Life Survey which was completed by Craylands residents in 2007.

The group will ensure that all partners are committed to delivering activities within the overall plan. They will involve and engage all sections of the local community and will monitor and review the plan at quarterly meetings with an annual review. The three year plan will continue to develop over time to meet the changing needs of residents.

This will enable local organisations to focus on delivering real outcomes to local people, improving the quality of life and working to achieve the vision of "A Better Craylands". To ensure this is successful Basildon Council and partners need local residents to be involved in the decision making processes and service delivery now and in the future.

Do you think you would like to be involved in the transformation of Craylands? It is an ambitious scheme that will transform Craylands, fostering a greater sense of pride and ensuring residents enjoy a safe, healthy and green place to live.

Would you like to get involved in the redevelopment, service delivery or management of your estate? Would you like to volunteer with your local community groups? For more information please call 01268 294395.
